would. I gave him a piece of dry bread that we happened to have. He ate it and said: ‘If you want to give something to the poor one, it should be something like this [piece of bread].’”

Abu Sulayman Dawud b. Nusayr al-Ta’i

He was a person of great importance. Shaykh Abu ʿAbd al-Rahman al-Sulami – may God have mercy on him – told me: Abu ʿAmr b. Matar told me: Muhammad b. Musayyib told me: Ibn Khubayq told me: Yusuf b. Sibat told me: “Dawud al-Ta’i inherited twenty dinars and he ate from them for twenty years.” I heard our master Abu ʿAli al-Daqqaq – may God have mercy on him – say: “The cause of Dawud’s conversion to asceticism was as follows. He used to wander the streets of Baghdad. Once he was passing through a street, when a group of the bodyguards [of Humayd al-Tusi] pushed him away from Humayd al-Tusi. When Dawud noticed Humayd, he said: ‘Fie to the world in which Humayd takes precedence over you!’ So, he secluded himself in his house and began to practice ascetic austerities and perform acts of devotion.”

Once I heard one of the poor say in Baghdad that the cause of his conversion to asceticism was that he heard a bereft woman whining: “On which of your two cheeks have appeared the traces of decay? And which of your eyes has flowed out?”

It is also said that the reason for his conversion to asceticism was that he attended the circle of Abu Hanifa, who told him once: “Abu Sulayman, we have already prepared the [required] equipment.” To which Dawud replied: “So what else is left?” Abu Hanifa answered: “[Only] works in accordance with it.” So Dawud said: “My soul prompted me toward seclusion. I told her: ‘As long as you sit with them, you should not speak about any issue at all!’ So for a whole year I was sitting with them, but I never spoke about any issue.” Sometimes issues would dawn upon me and I would be as eager to discuss them as the thirsty man is eager to drink cold water, yet I would not talk.” Thus he achieved what he achieved.

[Once] Junayd al-Hajjam (the Cupper) cupped Dawud al-Ta’i. The latter gave him a dinar. Someone told him that this was too much. He answered: “He who has no manliness has no devotion [to God].” Also he used to say during his night vigils: “O my God, my concern for You has annihilated all other mundane concerns and now stands between me and [my] sleep.”

On the day Dawud died, one of the righteous saw him in a dream as he was running by. He asked him what happened to him. He answered: “I was just released from prison.” When the man woke up from his dream, he heard people crying [in the street]: “Dawud al-‘A‘rāf has died!”

Someone asked him for an admonition. He answered: “A soldier of death awaits you!”

Someone came to visit him in his house and saw a jug of water standing right under the sun. He asked him why he did not want to put it in the shade. He answered: “When I put it there, there was no sun, and [later] I was ashamed to show God that I want to walk for the sake of my soul’s satisfaction.”

Someone came to visit him in his house and started to stare at him. Dawud told him: “Don’t you know that they used to refrain from staring [at one another] as much as they refrained from excessive talk?”

Abu ‘Ali Shaqiq b. Ibrahim al-Balkhi

He was a Sufi master of Khurasan. He spoke a lot about trust in God (tawakkul) and was a teacher of Hatim al-Asamm. It is said that the cause of his repentance was as follows. He was an offspring of a wealthy family. As a young man he set out on a journey to the land of Turks. Once he entered a sanctuary of idols, where he saw a custodian of the idols. His head and beard were shaved and he was dressed in a purple robe. Shaqiq al-Balkhi told him: “You have the Creator who is living, All-Knowing and All-Powerful. Worship Him and not those idols who neither help nor harm you!” The custodian answered: “If this were so, then [the Creator] would be able to provide you with sustenance in your own country. Why then did you take pains to come here for trade?” Shaqiq took heed and embarked on the path of world-renunciation.
